

2012 Olympics...

How much are you worth?

Your trade union representatives met with management at a Functional Council meeting on 20th September, where we demanded that all Service Control staff are given parity with Train Operators during the Olympic period.

The management have refused our demand - they say that our Framework Agreement (the PSCA) allows them to ask us to work through the Olympic period without any extra bonus or incentive.

We say that you should be given an incentive to battle through crowds and traffic to come to work during the Olympics. Many control rooms and signal cabins will need extra staff, paid on overtime.

Where's your incentive to come to work on overtime during the busiest period in London for decades?

We want to hear what you think - contact your trade union representative now!
